The Kwangsi Military District is turning its attention from the five-antis movement to the simplification and reorganization of its own structure. The Supply and Service Command is reorganizing its supply, production, medical and other subordinate units, as follows:

- a. The First Grade unit of shih (1358) (sic) in the Supply and Service Command is being abolished; the number of personnel in the various sections will be reduced.
- b. The Central Depot of the Supply and Service Command will be moved from Nanning to Pinyang (108-44, 23-18) and the designation of the former Nanning Central Depot will be changed to the First Sub-Depot of the Supply and Service Command.
- c. The Supply Office of the Supply and Service Command will still be responsible for the supply system of the military district. The number of personnel and administrative units will be reduced.
- d. The production factories and reclaimed land belonging to the Kwangsi Military District Supply and Service Command are all being transferred to the Kwangsi Government's Department of Industry and Department of Civil Affairs.
- e. Purchasing offices and units, and liaison offices of the Kwangsi Military District which had been formerly established at various places will be abolished.
- f. The Administration and Maintenance Division, which is being strengthened, will be responsible for all depots belonging to the Supply and Service Command. This Division will also directly control all sub-depots, and the independent administrative functions of these sub-depots will be revoked.
- g. The local field hospitals under the jurisdiction of the Supply and Service Command are subject to reorganization. In principle they will all be placed under the control of the Medical Department of the Supply and Service Command.
